Increased Feeding Sites and Better Nutrient Accessibility

Thanks to YaraVita PROCOTE's consistent and even distribution through the coating technology, crops have an increase in feeding sites and nutrient accessibility. With the increase in uptake efficiency, the micronutrients are only needed in grams/ac.

Improved Operations and Fertilizer Handling

YaraVita PROCOTE decreases granular fertilizer dust by over 99%. Other micronutrient coating technologies rely on micronutrient powders which can result in significant micronutrient loss due to dust off and segregation. YaraVita PROCOTE offers superior solution using the propriety suspension technology, eliminating loss and dust, while improving handling.
